The audacious technical solutions and the incommensurable artistic beauty in this monument subtly reflect the interpretation of the very soul of Cordoba, the essence of its spirituality, the search for dialogue and constant devotion to and for God that illuminates mankind from the Cathedral's Transept and bathes in light and patterns every corner of the building with uncommon beauty. The Cathedral of Cordoba, formerly the Mosque, is without a doubt one of the most amazing monuments in the entire world and the most singular religious building in existence. On October 31st, 1984, UNESCO declared it 'World Heritage Monument'. Being something of an institution in Córdoba. It was a convent and later a bodega full of countless nooks and crannies, which rests on the higher laurels. Few places in Andalucía provide such an amazing ambience and history, while managing to come up trumps in the kitchen.
